Private banker Andreas Brodtmann joins WeAdvise supervisory board

WeAdvise, the Munich-based white label provider for digital wealth management adds Andreas Brodtmann, a seasoned industry expert, as a member of its supervisory board.

Munich, 03.07.2019 - Andreas Brodtmann, former General Partner of the Berenberg Bank, joins the supervisory board of WeAdvise AG.

Andreas Brodtmann looks back on a successful career in the wealth and asset management industry. He had been with NORD/LB until 1992, where he established the Institutional Asset Management. He then held various positions with Berenberg Bank until 2018, including General Partner (until 2015) and Chairman of the Board of Directors of Berenberg Switzerland.

"Digitalisation, regulation and margin pressure pose significant challenges for financial service providers and independent wealth and asset managers. I am convinced that these can only be mastered with the right technological support. As an independent platform for wealth managers, WeAdvise is a key player in a market with great potential. I am looking forward to working with WeAdvise and sharing my experience as a private banker and investor," said Andreas Brodtmann.

"Wealth management is undergoing a profound transformation. With an experienced and well-connected supervisory board member like Mr. Brodtmann, we are ideally positioned for the future," said Christian Ropel, WeAdvise Co-Founder and Managing Director.
